Local Education Coordinator

Tim Malchoff, Local Education Coordinator

I Just want to check in, to let the community know what's happening with Chugachmiut's Local Education Program — A Retreat is scheduled for August 8 through 12. There will be between 30 and 35 people attending.

We expect there will be six (6) Local Education Coordinators, seven (7) Sugt'stun Teachers, seven (7) Elders (possibly one or two more depending on interest) Six (6) regional staff, an Evaluator, someone from the Pratt Museum, Faith Revell from the Valdez Museum, the Superintendent from the Valdez City School District (hopefully someone from the Kenai Peninsula Borough School District too) and someone from CRRC (hopefully Patty).

Some of our LEC's and Sugt'stun Teachers have young children that may need to travel with them. We plan on having babysitters who are willing and able to take care of these children. If you are interested in helping out, please let me know.

Elders will receive transportation to and from the place where the retreat is to be held.

Chugachmiut Heritage kit displays will be set up for viewing during this retreat. Notices will be posted as to where we will be setting up the kits so everyone can take a look.

COASTAL VOICES is a partnership project with the Hereditary Chief Councils of the Nuu-chah-nulth, Heiltsuk and Haida Nations

On Wednesday, June 29 the, SFU Researchers, Anne Salomon, Jen Burt and Kii'iljuus (Barbara Wilson) came to Port Graham and did a presentation at the center about sea otters. The group that came was from Canada, their waters have virtually no sea otters and they are looking to reintroduce them to their area. They were interested in what effect we believe sea otters have on our wildlife and our wellbeing. They also did some surveys that they could take back with them to add to their research on their project. The speakers were entertaining and the video's shown really showed a vast difference between Canada's waters and ours.
